DENMARK, RAILWAY PARCEL STAMPS

1

The first section of rail in Denmark was completed in 1847, with the first parcel stamps being introduced along the Jutland-Funen Railway (Jysk-Fynske Jernbaner) in 1865. The state took over the Jysk-Fynske rail in 1867, making the JFJ stamps the earliest of the national railway stamps. Other privately run rails produced stamps starting in 1866, with the national railways eventually acquiring most of the companies. The other early stamps in the skilling currency era were for Zeeland (Sjælland), Silkeborg-Herning and Lolland.

The Danske Statsbaner is the national railway for Denmark, which has produced stamps with the DSB initials until 2015.
